Notes

- (i) These programme regulations should be read in conjunction with the University's Postgraduate (Taught) Progress Regulations and Examination Conventions.
- (ii) A core module is a module which a student must pass and in which a fail mark may not be compensated; such modules are designated by the board of studies as essential.
- (iii) A compulsory module is a module which a student must take.
- (iv) All modules are delivered in Linear mode unless stated otherwise as Block, eLearning or distance learning.
- (v) Some modules listed in the regulation may be run in a different semester due to staff sabbatical leave. The current timetable is available in the Degree Handbook.
- (i) Upon completion of the programme, the MA degree title awarded will carry the name of the candidate's working languages A and B, e.g. MA in Translation and Interpreting (Language A: _____, Language B: _____). Language A is the candidate's language of best command (usually the mother tongue). Language B is the candidate's second language. The academically-oriented MA in Translation Studies does not need to specify languages.

1. Programme structure

- (a) The postgraduate programme in translation and interpreting (T&I) is available for study in full-time mode only with Chinese and English as working languages.
- (b) The period of study for full-time mode will be 24 months starting in September.
- (c) The T&I programme is available for study in two stages: Stage 1 is the common first year, in which all students are initially registered on the MA in Translation and Interpreting (4040), followed by Stage 2 in the second year, with four MA pathways.
- (d) The T&I programme comprises modules to a credit value of 300 with 120 credits in Stage 1 and 180 credits in Stage 2.

2. Stage 1

- (a) Candidates will take the following compulsory modules to a value of 100 credits:
